PRESS RELEASE: 2015

Taste New York Juice, Wine, Cheese and More at 2015 Empire Farm Days

Seneca Falls, NY. No one should leave the 2015 Empire Farm Days hungry. New York food sampling opportunities and vendors with everything from beef and pork BBQ to grilled sweet corn and sweet treats of taffy and ice cream are found throughout the 300-acre showgrounds, August 11-13, at Rodman Lott and Son Farms, Seneca Falls, NY.

In the Cornell Marketplace, the Women for New York State Wines offer a taste of Welch's Grape Juice, bottled in Western New York, from 10am to 4pm.

From 1-4pm, the ladies of the promotional arm of the New York State Wine Grape Growers association offer a taste of several different types of New York wines, from white to red to ice wine.

The Agri-Mark dairy cooperative and Cabot/McCadam Cheese will feature cheeses from both brands, including the popular Cabot New York Extra Sharp Cheddar with the label "Owned by Our Farm Families in New York and New England." Close to 700 of the more than 1200 farm-family owners of the Cabot/McCadam brand are from New York.

Food vendors throughout the show are raising funds in support of the Cornell University Dairy Science Club, East Palmyra Christian School, Lockland School, NY Beef Producers, NY Corn and Soybean Growers, NY Pork Producers, Ovid Willard Lions Club, Seneca County Cornell Cooperative Extension 4-H Program, Seneca Falls Rotary, Seneca Falls Volunteer Fire Department, South Seneca Sportsman Club, and Waterloo Rotary. Fowlers Taffy of Sarasota, Florida, will offer sweet treats.
