New Products Showcase Expanding for 2019 Empire Farm Days:
Registration Open through May 31, 2019

Seneca Falls, NY. Agricultural manufacturers and retailers who are debuting a new product this year are invited to draw attention to those items by participating in the Empire Farm Days' New Products Showcase. This showcase opportunity debuted in the 2017 Empire Farm Days program and doubled its space in 2018. Exhibitors who prepay their booth space for the 2019 show set for August 6-8, 2019, at Rodman Lott and Son Farms in Seneca Falls, NY, will be eligible to upload new product information and a photo to the empirefarmdays.com website.

For more information and to see if your product qualifies for the 2019 showcase, contact Empire Farm Days Show Manager Jamie Meyer at 877-697-7837. Requests must be made by May 31, 2019.

New products highlighted last year included animal care products such as feeders, head lockups, and distiller grains. Equipment included trucks, truck tanks, a spreader, high-speed vertical tillage tool, injector, and articulated loaders. Other new product offerings highlighted in 2018 ranged from drones, recirculating fans and a foot-powered hydraulic hose crimper to a geothermal heat pump, extreme-duty grease, welding table, floor panels and life insurance.

Watch for more details exhibits, field crop and equipment demonstrations, seminars, speakers, demonstrations, activities, and show vendors at the 2019 Empire Farm Days agricultural and rural living event online at www.empirefarmdays.com.
